Management and Leadership Training for Women

Elevate is funded by the European Union through the European Social Fund and the Learning and Skills Council.

The Elevate project offers women a 'menu' of training courses. Trainees are able to tailor their own personal development plans and can choose from 10 days of training courses.

The training will be delivered by experienced training providers with a commitment to, and track record of, working with women. A range of training courses will be available including:

- Staff supervision
- Managing and promoting diversity
- Financial management
- Managing your time
- Leadership styles
- Effective communication
- Confidence building
- Networking effectively
- Business start-up support

As well as training, there are many other benefits to participating in the Elevate project.

Personal Advisors will help you choose the most appropriate courses for your personal development plan. The Personal Advisors are able to provide you with ongoing support and information throughout your training programme.

Some women may require extra support in helping them to set and realise their goals. Individual coaching sessions are available to complement your training programme.

There will be regular networking and learning events.

You can have your training accredited towards NVQ units in Management and Leadership, levels 3 and 4.

Childcare and travel bursaries will be available to some trainees.

The Elevate project is for women who meet ONE of the following:

- Returning to a management position
- Already in a management position
- Looking to move into management in the near future
- Working in, or own a small- to medium-sized business
- Wanting to start up their own business
- Working in the voluntary and community sector
- Self employed

All trainees are first assessed for eligibility and must commit to completing a minimum of 10 days training.

If you are interested in the Elevate project, contact the Women's Resource Centre for further information.
